ENGLAND'S GREATEST WINEMAKER

In 2006, acclaimed winemaker Dermot Sugrue planted a small vineyard at the foot of the South Downs in West Sussex and named it Storrington Priory Vineyard. Seven years later, 'The Trouble with Dreams' from the 2009 vintage was released, rapidly gaining critical acclaim. The staggering quality of the next two vintages earned Sugrue South Downs a cult-like following which grows to this day. Today the range, under his own label: Sugrue South Downs, is most sought after. Both his reputation and that of his label is in no small part thanks to his partner, in every sense, Ana Dogić. With over a decade of international winemaking experience, she is now in charge of the vines and the outstanding fruit they produce for the Sugrue label.
